Hi Paul,

Thanks for your interest in our district and for sharing your views. Unfortunately, the article lacked many details. Allow me to clarify our tennis court situation which has been unfolding for more than a year.

The very first estimate to rebuild the courts came in at $580k. The Board was not comfortable with this cost and explored alternatives. We reached out to both Brecksville and Broadview Hts. There was no opportunity with Broadview Hts. but, there was with Brecksville. We had everything in place to partner with Brecksville. The arrangement was as follows.

- We use the city's current three courts.
- The city gives up a baseball field where the district constructs two new courts at a cost of $250k paid for by the district.
- The city and district enter into a shared use agreement with the city responsible for ongoing court repairs for all five courts.

Just before the Board moved forward with this arrangement, the tennis community expressed serious concerns especially concerning the layout of the courts. The separation between the three current courts and the two new courts would present challenges for our coaches.

More exploration was done on rebuilding our courts on our campus and there were indications that the cost could be significantly less than $580k. The Board offered the tennis community this option in lieu of the Brecksville partnership plan:

- The Board commits $250k to the cost of rebuilding the courts on our campus.
- A new estimate would be developed which is expected to be less than $580k.
- The tennis community would perform fundraising to make up the difference (the new estimate minus $250k).
- The tennis community would sacrifice all home matches until they could raise the funds and the courts could be rebuilt.

The new estimate should be done within the next few months at which time we will re-engage the tennis community. I suspect you may see additional articles on our tennis courts with new details as this comes into focus. It is clear that the recent article left a lot of room for misunderstanding.

- Why are you wasting $580,000 on tennis courts? Especially when we could spend that money updating and maintaining the schools such as remodeling the middle school auditorium. After an extremely poor central decision, land now this, how do we trust you with our tax payers money? Why not partner with the city of brecksville or broadview to build courts? Then the community could use them and cost the schools less. Does someone in the board have any relationships with the construction company?
