Brecksville-Broadview Heights City School District

BBHCSD Addresses County Re-Designation to 'Red Level' Risk Status
Our Plan Remains to Return to 5-Day, In-Person Learning on 10/26

October 16th, 2020

Dear Brecksville-Broadview Heights City Schools Community,

As you may have already learned, Cuyahoga County was recently re-designated to the 'red level' for coronavirus risk, along with approximately 28 other counties according to the Ohio Department of Health Advisory System. While the BBHCSD acknowledges this re-designation, our District has had only three positive cases thus far, all transmitted away from the school district, since the beginning of the school year. Relevant data within the BBHCSD communities does not mirror data countywide. Consequently, the District still plans to re-open to 5-day/week, in-person learning on Monday, October 26th.

Next week, the District and all buildings will be sharing detailed information about specific protocols and reminders relative to important aspects of your child's return, including: arrival time information, classroom reminders, lunch considerations, bus riding key points and more. Please remain on the lookout for this detailed Return to 5-day/week, in-person learning information next week.

The Brecksville-Broadview Heights City Schools remains dedicated to our plan, but will also continue to closely monitor data trends related to the current circumstances, extensively clean, and prepare for the return of our students on Monday, October 26th. School districts during this unprecedented time must also communicate that any and all plans are subject to immediate change based on ever-evolving, and new information. Working together with our families, the District is confident of a safe and successful resuming of classes at this time.

Thank you for your continued support. Have a safe and enjoyable weekend.

Sincerely,

Joelle Magyar
Superintendent of Schools
