I understand that last year The Board of Education decided not to join the Vouchers Hurt Ohio lawsuit since so few of our students were using vouchers. While I can understand the thinking behind that decision, I am writing to offer a different perspective.

For now, most of the students in our district are being funded by their families, but the eligibility for receiving vouchers has continued to expand. As voucher programs expand across Ohio, the share of education funds for public schools will decline. That could result in the need for more levies, program and staffing cuts, increased class sizes, etc.

In a move that seems profoundly unfair to me, students using vouchers are receiving more than twice as much as our K-8 students and nearly three times as much as students in grades 9 - 12. Based on the number of students in our district and funding information in The Cupp Report on the ODE website, BBHCSO would be receiving approximately $13,000,000 more from the state if we were funded at the same level as vouchers. The cost of joining the lawsuit would be $2 per student or $7,382 which seems worth it to try to resolve the funding inequities described above.

I have included an invitation to a virtual meeting being held by The Heights Coalition about the Vouchers Hurt Ohio lawsuit on February 23rd. If you wish to learn more about it, I hope that you will try to attend.

Thanks, as always, for your consideration,

Debbie Bernauer

Local Report Card - Public Comment

The Ohio Department of Education is accepting public comment on proposed changes to the Local Report Card (among other issues)

We urge you to email rulecomments@education.ohio.gov by February 9, 2022 stating that standardized tests should not be used to punish school districts. Standardized testing is an untrustworthy method of judging any part of school quality.
