

This agreement dated November 21, 2023 is entered into between the Center for Marketing and Opinion Research, LLC (hereafter referred to as CMOR) and Brecksville-Broadview Heights City School District (herein referred to as BBHCSD) for the purpose of collecting data and facilitating meetings to assist in the development of the district's new strategic plan.

It is hereby agreed that:

1. CMOR agrees to facilitate meetings with four key stakeholder groups (detailed scope of work attached).
2. CMOR agrees to conduct a survey of district residents (detailed scope of work attached).
3. BBHCSD agrees to pay CMOR a fee of $21,750 for the research project. If the entire amount is paid prior to data collection, BBHCSD will receive a discount and will pay CMOR a total of $19,975. Otherwise, CMOR requires a 75% deposit prior to data collection.
4. At the conclusion of the project and receipt of BBHCSD's payment of the fees provided for in this Agreement, all data and reports will be delivered to BBHCSD.
5. CMOR is retained by BBHCSD only for the purposes and to the extent set forth in this Agreement, and CMOR's relation to BBHCSD under this Agreement shall be that of an independent contractor and not that of an employee, partner or joint venturer.
6. This Agreement shall be governed by, construed under, and enforced in accordance with the internal substantive laws of the State of Ohio. Any disputes arising under this Agreement are subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts venued in Stark or Cuyahoga County, Ohio.
7. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same agreement. An email signature shall constitute an original.
8. This Agreement supersedes any and all other understandings and agreements, either oral or in writing, between the Parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and constitutes the sole and only agreement between the Parties with respect to said subject matter. No change or modification of this Agreement shall be valid or binding upon the Parties unless the change or modification is in writing and signed by the Parties.

In order to begin work on this project, the Center for Marketing and Opinion Research, LLC will need a signed copy of this agreement emailed to smhenry@cmoresearch.com or mailed to the address below. Once the acceptance of this agreement is received, CMOR will begin work on this project.

SCOPE OF WORK

The Center for Marketing and Opinion Research (CMOR) would like to be considered to conduct a research study on behalf of J.C. Power and Brecksville-Broadview Heights City School District (BBH Schools). The purpose of the study is to collect data to assist in the development of the district's new strategic plan.

MEETING FACILITATION

CMOR will facilitate meetings with four key stakeholder groups:

- 2 staff meetings on separate days (MS/HS, and Elementary)
- 1 large community meeting (approximately 100)
- 1 smaller meeting with a group of about 50 handpicked individuals

Meeting facilitation includes creation of breakout work items, agenda development, meeting facilitation, and wrap-up items. A Key Findings Report detailing the outcomes of the meetings will be provided after the meetings.

The goal for the meetings is to accomplish the following objectives:

- Provide education and insight into the strategic planning process.
- Gain insight on the district's strategic direction.
- Identify the district's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats.

COMMUNITY SURVEY

CMOR recommends a survey of 400 district residents, selected at random. The final sample will be representative of the area population. The survey will be administered online with telephone surveys, both landline and cell phones, conducted as needed to ensure the study is representative. A sample size of 400 results in an overall sampling error of 5.0%, within a 95% confidence level.

The questionnaire will last 10 to 12 minutes, on average. Survey design is an iterative process with revision and review being critical to development of an instrument that meets the research objectives and provides valid and reliable data. Following an initial discovery meeting, CMOR will design a questionnaire draft that outlines research objectives and identifies the measures designed to meet each objective. After review, CMOR will edit the survey until all parties feel confident it meets the stated objectives. CMOR will program the survey and prepare for fielding. The Questionnaire will include:

- Questions to gauge awareness and perceptions of BBH Schools, demographics and communication preferences of community residents, as well as strengths and weaknesses of the district.
- Closed and open-ended questions - Collecting both quantitative and qualitative data will provide deeper insight as well as contextual data.

CMOR will analyze the survey data and provide a detailed report with analysis on all survey items as well as a section on the methodology employed and an executive summary detailing the key findings. Graphs, charts and tables will be used to help visually represent the outcomes of the survey. Professional staff at CMOR will also be available to do presentations of the research results as requested. In addition, CMOR will continue to support the data and answer questions about the report and findings as well as provide additional analysis as needed after the project is complete.

INTRO TO CMOR

The Center for Marketing & Opinion Research provides public opinion research services to school districts, colleges and universities, hospitals and healthcare organizations, and community-based organizations and government agencies. We collect reliable, valid and meaningful data for our clients using telephone, web and mail surveys, field, intercept and key informant interviews, focus group administration, as well as a wide range of consulting services. More than 90% of our clients have worked with us more than once and more than half of our new clients come from customer referrals.

CMOR's MISSION

CMOR asks the right questions, to the right people, the right way to identify needs, perceptions and opportunities, which, in turn, allows our clients to strengthen their position in the community by following smart, insightful recommendations that maximize their resources.

CMOR's VISION

To serve our clients and the community - We make a difference in the community by working with organizations that make a difference. CMOR understands that a "one-size-fits-all" approach to research is typically not in our clients' best interest and that each organization is unique and needs research customized to meet their objectives. We build authentic, long-term partnerships with clients based on quality and mutual values and goals, acting as an extension of our clients' team to make the research process simple and seamless.

CMOR' CORE VALUES

- ✓ Passion: Be passionate and determined
- ✓ Purpose: Do meaningful work that makes a difference

In addition to the projects listed above, CMOR conducts many studies that involve collecting community and stakeholder needs and perceptions as well as facilitating focus groups, meetings and community leader summits to find consensus and agreement of priority issues and areas to address. We will draw on our past experience in the design for this project; however, the surveys and methodology will be tailored to meet the outcome needs of this study. Our experience allows CMOR to provide the comfort of a smooth, accurate, and effective administration of this project.

PROJECT TEAM

Michelle Henry and Amanda Barna founded the Center for Marketing and Opinion Research (CMOR) in 2006 after identifying a need for research services among community-based organizations and agencies. Michelle and Amanda are both passionate about the work CMOR does and the organizations they work with, each acting as Principal Investigator or Project Director on research projects over a combined total of 50 years for nonprofits, social service and governmental agencies and academic and healthcare institutions, working closely with community leaders. Below are short summaries of each member of our professional team.

Michelle Henry, M.A., Principal and co-founder of CMOR, has over twenty-five years of experience in quantitative and qualitative research. Michelle holds a master's degree in political science from The University of Akron and is a member of the American Association of Public Opinion Research (AAPOR). She sits on the board of the Akron Press Club and is a graduate of Leadership Stark County, 23rd Class. Michelle was a featured local speaker at the 2012 TEDxWomen event. Michelle has extensive experience in research and questionnaire design as well as in focus group moderation and discussion guide development used for a variety of purposes from testing marketing and naming concepts to gauging opinions and awareness. Michelle oversees all research projects from inception to reporting, reviewing and approving all deliverables prior to submission.

Amanda Barna, M.A., Principal and co-founder of CMOR, has over twenty years of experience in quantitative and qualitative research. Amanda holds a master's degree in urban studies and an undergraduate degree in sociology from The University of Akron where she was named as Undergraduate Student of the Year. Amanda is a member of the American Association of Public Opinion Research (AAPOR). She is a past board member for Akron Torchbearers, past Board Chair and current Board Member of Goodwill Industries Akron, member of Class 37 of Leadership Akron, and President of the University of Akron Buchtel College of Arts and Sciences Alumni Council. Amanda is a 2011 Recipient of the Greater Akron Chamber's 30 for the Future Award. Amanda has extensive experience in survey design, secondary data compilation and analysis, program evaluation, and data analysis and presentation. For research projects, Amanda provides expert knowledge of survey design, quantitative and qualitative data analysis and results interpretation including identifying themes and providing data backed recommendations.

Anthony Matonis, B.A, Chief Research Officer, has more than fifteen years of experience in quantitative research and analytics. Anthony holds a bachelor's degree in Sociology from the University of Akron. He oversees all web and CATI surveys, questionnaire programming, database creation/management, and sample management. For research projects, Anthony provides project management while data is being collected, reviewing status reports and providing sample management.

LaRinda Johnson, B.A, Research Assistant, has three years of experience in quantitative and qualitative research. LaRinda holds a bachelor's degree in political science and philosophy from Kent State University. She manages and creates all web survey email campaigns, conducts quality assurance checks from phone interviews, provides project database management, programs surveys, writes and edits reports, performs face to face and phone interviews, focus group transcriptions and recruiting.
