Cuyahoga Valley Career Center

Board of Education Summary of Responsibilities

Historic Brief:

In 1963 U.S. and Ohio governments solidified legislation to offer vocational training and the model for all Ohio's residents was born. In 1968 the South Central Cuyahoga County Joint Vocational School Board was formed. The name was changed to Cuyahoga Valley Joint Vocational School during the early stages of formation as Summit County schools were added. The first students enrolled in 1972. Approximately 25 high school programs were offered at that time and were complimented by various adult training programs. In 1995, to modernize the image of vocational education, our name changed to Cuyahoga Valley Career Center (CVCC). Today the center offers roughly the same number of programs, however, they have changed with the shifts interest from our students and demands of our industry partners. Our Adult Education, Ohio Technical Center, is part of the high education system of Ohio.

Board of Education Member Responsibilities:

1. Attend Board of Education Meetings

CVCC Board meets once a month with no meetings in November and July. The 10 meeting dates are approved in January of each year and are typically scheduled for the last Thursday of the month beginning at 6:30 p.m. In October, CVCC hosts the All Boards Dinner where Board members, Superintendents, and Treasurers from eight districts are invited to CVCC for a presentation by an instructor, student, and business advisory member. The Board also created four committees, Buildings and Grounds, Business and Finance, Curriculum, and Policy, that meet for deeper understanding of their respective areas. The committees generally meet twice a year immediately before the monthly Board meeting.

2. Learn about Career Technical Education

Career Education requires a level of maturity and dedication as our laboratories contain industrial equipment and students are encouraged to participate in internships in our local businesses as part of their instruction. CVCC has four pillars which illustrate the competitive advantages students gain from attending our programing. The four pillars are College Credit, Certificates/Licenses, Work-based Learning, and Career Technical Student Organizations (CTSO). CTSOs are organizations that build leadership, competitiveness, presentation, and professional skills for our students.

3. Understand local Business Needs

Business and industry in our area have many needs and between our secondary and adult training, CVCC strives to assist. CVCC provides the skills to be job ready upon the completion of our programs and the knowledge to be successful if the individual chooses to pursue additional training. CVCC programs have advisory committees made up of local business employees and other advisors to ensure our instruction aligns with their needs. CVCC conducts local needs surveys and studies local economic reports to ensure our instruction aligns with in-demand, stable, and livable wage producing careers.
